

LET HIM EAT CAKE

By Ian Menzies

The Op Shop volunteer had chalked up 10 years of service, so several jaunty signs acknowledging his efforts were placed around the store. They may have stayed up a little too long, but that oversight proved fortunate. Some weeks later a customer observed one, then headed off further up the street to purchase a small celebratory cake, before returning with instructions to pass it on to the dedicated volunteer, whom she had never met. Her thoughtfulness so generously expressed through her random act of kindness left much surprised happiness in its wake.

Reflection:

Do not let loyalty and faithfulness forsake you; bind them round your neck, write them on the tablet of your heart.
