Appendix: Election Procedures

The following guidelines are taken from the report of the Standing Committee Review Group to the Standing Committee in July, 2007. They are included for the information and guidance of those who call for nominations and for those who then determine the outcome of the electoral process.

- (i) The call for nominations for membership of the Standing Committee, and the advice to members of Synod prior to any ballot to determine membership of the Committee, shall provide that nominees should have demonstrated skills in areas which may include:

- competency in leadership skills;
  - experience in the life of the Uniting Church and ongoing awareness of the practical mission priorities of the Synod;
  - appreciation of the structures of the Uniting Church, the roles and responsibilities of its inter-related councils;
  - hands-on experience of presbytery life;
  - appreciation of rural, regional and metropolitan issues generally;
  - understanding of the needs of areas of high growth and/or development;
  - ability to work as a team person;
  - willingness to participate in task group and sub-committee activities;
  - experience with strategic planning and priority setting.
- (ii) Because of the particular governance role of the Standing Committee, the call for nominations will include a reminder that the Standing Committee needs to include members with expertise in, or understanding of, accountancy, business management and budgeting.
- (iii) Prior to each meeting of the Synod, a call for nominations shall be forwarded to each Presbytery and to each member of Synod, and Presbytery Secretaries will be reminded of the right of Presbyteries to make one or more nominations.
- (iv) Nominations for election as members of the Synod Standing Committee may be received from members of the Synod or from presbytery secretaries until the time fixed by the Business Committee for the closing of such nominations, not before the evening meal break on the first day of business. Each such nomination shall be made on the form provided, and shall be accompanied by the written consent of the person nominated, a declaration by the person of his or her intention to make every effort to attend meetings of the Synod Standing Committee during the term of office, and a profile which provides background information relevant to the nomination.
- (v) If there is no nomination of a member from any particular presbytery (or less than two nominations of members from the Presbytery of Tasmania), or if none (or only one in the case of Tasmania) receives the support of a majority of those participating in the ballot, then the available place for that presbytery shall be filled from general nominations who have been so affirmed;
- (vi) A preferential ballot shall be conducted.
- (vii) In order to provide continuity of experience and thus to enhance the ability of the Standing Committee to exercise its governance role, six of the sixteen elected positions shall be designated as having a nominal three-year term of office (to be named Group B), with the balance of positions being appointed for a term that will end at the next ordinary meeting of the synod after their appointment (named Group A).
- (viii) A separate ballot shall be conducted for Group B membership, prior to any ballot for the Group A members of the Standing Committee.
- (ix) Members of both Group A and Group B shall be eligible for re-election (if members of the ensuing Synod) at the conclusion of the term of office for which they have been elected.
- (x) The number of Group B members to retire at each Synod meeting is a function of the frequency of Synod meetings. A number of Group B members equal to six divided by the number of Synod meetings held in each three year period, and rounded to the next highest number, shall complete their term of office at each Synod. In practical terms, this means that while there are annual meetings, two Group B members would be elected each year. On initial implementation, the terms of office of Group B members shall be determined by lot in order to establish the rotation. Once the rotation has been established, then standing for election shall be upon the basis of seniority from the date of election of that member of Group B.

- (xi) Group B members must be able to attend Synod meetings held during their terms of office expected to be three years. This is essential in order to meet the requirements of the Regulation that a member of the Standing Committee must have been a member of the preceding Synod. Where a Group B member is unable to attend a Synod Meeting during their term of appointment, that person will forfeit their membership of Standing Committee and another member elected to complete that term.
- (xii) Elected Group B members who are not appointed as members of any Synod held during their term of office under some other category will be included in the co-options to membership of the Synod, under Regulation 3.5.3(a)(i) [to make available to the Synod the participation of persons whose gifts and experience would be of special value and not otherwise available to the Synod].
- (xiii) A member of Synod may be nominated for membership under either or both Group A and Group B. Candidates for Group B membership who are not elected as members of that Group, shall be eligible for election in Group A only if they have also been nominated for that Group.
- (xiv) Positions available for presbytery members may be filled by either Group A or Group B members.
- (xv) The term of office for Group A members shall be from the conclusion of the Synod to the opening of the next ensuing ordinary meeting of the next following Synod. The term of office for the Group B members shall be from the conclusion of the Synod by which they were elected until the opening of the ordinary meeting of the Synod held three years later.

- (ii) To seek to assist Australian companies being subjected to extortion payments to be able to resist having to make such payments, especially in cases involving foreign officials;
  - (iii) To extend Australia's anti-money laundering/counter-terrorism financing laws to cover designated non-financial businesses and professions named in the Financial Action Task Force international standards, and specifically to real estate agents in relation to the buying and selling of property, dealers in precious metals and stones, lawyers, accountants, notaries and company service providers;
  - (iv) To introduce by law a public register of the ultimate beneficial owners of companies and trusts, so that companies and trusts cannot be used as a veil for money laundering activities, and to seek to ensure such registries become a global norm;
  - (v) To require a bank or other financial institution which assesses that funds it is dealing with have a high risk of being associated with money laundering to refuse to deal with the funds unless instructed otherwise by the appropriate Australian law enforcement agency;
  - (vi) To modify Australian law so that a public official should be asked to provide a copy of any asset and income declaration form filed with their authorities, as well as subsequent updates, and, if a customer refuses, to require the bank or other financial institution to assess the reasons and to determine, using a risk-based approach, whether to proceed with the business relationship;
  - (vii) To share information automatically with the relevant foreign authorities when a foreign politically exposed person purchases property or transfers funds to Australia, unless the Australian authorities have some reason to carry out a prosecution of the person themselves and sharing the information would compromise that prosecution, or if the Australian Government has reasonable concerns the information is likely to be misused to carry out human rights abuses;
  - (viii) To require financial institutions to disclose full details of foreign government assets which they manage;
  - (ix) To establish a dedicated unit within the Australian Federal Police to investigate money and assets stolen from foreign governments and shifted to Australia by politically exposed persons and to seek to return the stolen assets where possible;
  - (x) To establish a national unexplained wealth scheme to combat the ability of organised criminals to profit from their crimes, where unexplained wealth provisions are not limited by having to prove a predicate offence;
  - (xi) To implement an effective non-conviction based confiscation and restraint mechanism to deal with criminal assets transferred from overseas to Australia; and
  - (xii) To introduce legislation to protect and reward private sector whistle blowers who expose fraud and corruption against Australian governments, similar to laws that already exist in the UK and US; and

- (c) To ask that the $300 million of operating costs cut from the operating budgets of TAFEs be restored; and
- (d) To write to the Premier, the Minister for Higher Education and Skills, the Leader of the Opposition and the Shadow Minister for Higher Education to inform them of this resolution.

14.7.20 REVISED ETHICAL INVESTMENT POLICY

The Synod resolved:

- (a) To repeal the Ethical Investment Policy of the Synod which was adopted in Synod Minute 03.3.7.1;
- (b) To adopt the following revised Ethical Investment Policy for application to all investment decisions of Synod bodies:

Preamble

At its simplest, all Christian discipleship is a response to Christ's 'great commandment' to love God and to love our neighbour as ourselves. (Matthew 22: 34-40)

The Church, in its worship and mission, including its investment policies and practices, seeks to bear witness to God's love for that which God has created; to support that which enhances life and to resist that which diminishes life.

Positively, the love commandment will motivate the Church, where possible, to invest its financial resources in areas which promote human welfare, dignity and respect, and the general good.

Negatively, this perspective will proscribe investment in enterprises whose products or practices cause or perpetuate injustice and suffering, infringe fundamental human rights or cause unacceptable damage to the natural environment.

Love of neighbour extends to caring for the natural environment which supports our neighbours' life; and it extends in time to those who come after us – and so long term considerations will also come into decisions relating to investments.

Our theological tradition teaches that we live in a world where God's intention that we live in love, peace and justice has been distorted. Accordingly, our choices are rarely pure or unambiguously good and true. Choices made in good faith are often a careful weighing up of 'the greater good' or the 'lesser of evils'. Such processes will inevitably be part of the context of investment choices.

Investment Process

The investment process will ensure that all investment decisions are made having regard to the values expressed in the preamble and to our requirement to exercise good financial stewardship. Good financial stewardship can be achieved by the evaluation of negative and positive screens together with a focus on appropriate economic returns, investment risks and sustainability. The Church will, where appropriate, undertake a process of engagement with companies involved in unacceptable activities.

The Church, through UCA Funds Management, will participate as socially responsible investors by membership of relevant industry bodies.

Positive screen

We seek to invest in companies which promote human welfare, dignity and respect, and the general good. Examples include companies which produce goods or services which enhance the health and welfare of individuals and communities, and companies which produce goods or services which preserve the environment. Each portfolio managed by UCA Funds Management will maintain at least 10% exposure to positive companies.

Negative screen

We avoid investing in companies whose products, services or practices cause or perpetuate injustice and suffering, infringe human rights or cause unacceptable damage to the natural environment. Industries included are armaments, uranium, gambling, alcohol production, thermal coal, unconventional oil and gas, tobacco manufacturing and pornography.

Companies are also excluded where their practices are unacceptable in areas such as human rights, occupational health and safety, environmental management and wherever companies support oppressive regimes.

We recognise that there will be occasions when companies inadvertently breach some of the principles and where genuine efforts are made to rectify the breaches.

We will not prohibit investment in a company where a breach of the principles, in relation to its products or services, is immaterial; the breach may also be balanced by other positive actions. The materiality of the breach is determined by reference to its proportion of the company's activities, the proportion of the industry in which the excluded activity operates, and/or whether the activity is clearly of an egregious nature regardless of this proportion.

We acknowledge that decisions may be complex involving a balance between positive and negative factors.

Neutral

The majority of investments will be in companies which are considered to be neutral in terms of the positive and negative screens. Such investments will be made on the basis of investment criteria, which will assist us to exercise good stewardship and provide a reliable source of income and capital growth to the Church. The wise use of resources is, in itself, an ethical outcome.

- (c) To note that the Revised Ethical Investment Policy supersedes the policy on investment decisions embodied in Synod Minute 81.4.6.6.
